

Looking for more sizes and adjustability?

In response to practitioner requests, we now offer the Shoulder Abduction Rotation Orthosis (SARO) in additional sizes and increased adjustability to enhance the clinical application. Since 2002, the SARO has gained wide acceptance in the O&P community and has been used successfully for the pre and post-operative management of the pediatric shoulder joint.

FEATURES:

- Increased adjustability at the shoulder and elbow joints
- Now available in large and extra large sizes
- Humeral cuff with raised posterior wall for additional control
- Lightweight, universal, design can be used for the left or right shoulder

INDICATIONS:

- Paralysis or damage to the Brachial Plexus (Erb palsy)
- Prevention of upper extremity joint contractures
- Brachial Plexus exploration and nerve repair
- Soft tissue surgery including tendon transfers
