It’s part of the reason why Bob and Aaron have been able to create such an amazing outcome. And why the C-Leg has become the standard for transfemoral patients around the world.

Visit us at www.clegstories.com to learn more about their story—and about new evaluation tools we’ve designed to help you give your patients the best care possible. These tools can help you determine if your patients’ present systems are giving them the best support possible—or if they need an upgrade.
