

WalkTek™

Designed with iMX Technology

The Future of K2 Performance. Today.

Designed with independent, multi-axial (iMX) technology, the WalkTek represents a breakthrough in performance for K2 level amputees. Featuring fully independent suspension with separate heel and toe compliance, WalkTek provides excellent stability and support. Users will experience increased confidence when performing day-to-day activities. Prosthetists will appreciate the durable design with easy to access ankle height adjustments.
